Download Content Plan Including Required Templates: Video Tutorial

Important: If you haven't already done so, please take the time to read through the Introduction section as this includes essential guidance and tasks before you move forward.

We recommend collating all the required content (or most of it), into the required formats before you start building. You can make real time edits and add additional content at a later date if you need to do so.

Considerations:

- For additional guidance on what is required in the templates for the following please click relevant option to see how this links to the CrowdComms Platform. People, Agenda, Companies
- There is an option to allow companies (exhibitors, sponsors) to self edit their profiles, if you go with this option, you will only need to import the company name and main representative. Read more

You can download the Content Plan folders which will form the basis of your platform here. This is also included as an attachment on this guide, and will look like the below once downloaded.
